Response
Section II-D

On February 22, 2022, Scott Crow acting in his official capacity as Director of the Oklahoma Department of Corrections confiscated all digital music downloads from the prisoners in his custody, that were purchased from the O.D.O.C. and its contracted vendor Access Corrections, acting under color of state law, sold digital music downloads to O.D.O.C.'s prisoners for use while incarcerated, avowing that once purchased the digital music downloads would never have to be purchased again, this assurance is advertised in print.

The O.D.O.C. recently implemented a statewide policy forcing all prisoners to surrender their digital media players, rescinding access to all of their digital music files and requiring them to be repurchased from the O.D.O.C.'s new vendor.

This policy has effectively stolen the lawfully purchased property of every prisoner that participated in the O.D.O.C. digital media program, for which the O.D.O.C. has failed to pay just compensation.
